

Habakkuk 3 - He Is My Strength

Review so far

- Does God still speak? How does He speak? What does He say?
- A righteous fit. These are OK to have now and again.
- God's answer; not what Habakkuk had in mind.
- Tries to point out the flaw in God's plan.
- Will God use "the enemy" to correct you? Absolutely. Bummer.
- The just shall live by faith
- The proud will get his

3:1-16

3:1-2 [2] When you have an encounter with God and His word you will go from pride to pray, from reviling to revival, from justice to just-save-them, from ourselves to Jesus.

3:3-16

- [3] When you're having a hard time with what God is doing or is not doing or is about to do always remember what God has done. Like Jesus (in both senses, as Jesus did and what Jesus is going to do).
- [4] When we think God is being harsh we have to remember the ugliness of sin and its cost which is Jesus.

3:17-19 [5a] When we experience trials the source of our joy is defined and refined. (joy - circling exuberantly)

- [5b] Someone's poisoned the water hole!
- [5c] You can either fight it or embrace it.
- [5d] Joy in the Lord is a choice. (command from Paul to Philippians while in jail!)

The Creator, the God of Adam, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, of Moses, of David, of Elijah and Elisha, of Ezekiel, Daniel, Habakkuk, Peter and Paul, He is your strength. If He isn't now, He can be through Jesus, God's ultimate expression of mercy, joy, and strength.
